

ONE-DAY CHURCH

Responding to the need for churches

ONE-DAY CHURCH PROJECT

As the Seventh-day Adventist Church continues to grow rapidly, many congregations find themselves without a church to worship in. Each day, 11 new congregations will need a church home. In all, Maranatha has requests for more than 100,000 churches all over the world.

Although they have no physical place to worship, thousands of congregations are still meeting wherever they can—in a home or even under a tree. All of them are praying for an actual church building, but they do not have the resources to construct a permanent framework and roof.

The One-Day Church is a response to the incredible need for church buildings in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Maranatha and our partners created a plan that supplies congregations with a solid, steel frame and roof. The members are then empowered to supply appropriate wall materials. In this way, a representative church home can be provided quickly and economically to thousands of congregations.

Over the past three years, this simple but effective plan has provided churches to more than 2,700 congregations around the world.

Durable and rugged galvanized steel structure with vented roof.

Designed to be erected in one day.

Involves local members in church completion.

Provides a sturdy structure for congregations in need.

Seats approximately 125 people.

Allows for various wall finishes.

Volunteers can help build the church.

Purpose = Souls for the kingdom of God.

More than 2,700 One-Day Churches have been completed by Maranatha and other partners since the program began. These new churches provide worship space for approximately 337,500 people. Once a church is complete, congregations immediately begin inviting their friends and neighbors to join their worship services. Already Maranatha is hearing stories of congregations growing as a result of the One-Day Churches.
