Maranatha In The Dominican Republic

Maranatha's history with the Dominican Republic stretches back over three decades. The first contact with the country was made when Maranatha volunteers helped to construct churches and homes that were destroyed when a devastating hurricane hit the island in 1979.

Then in 1992, Maranatha embarked on an ambitious project to build 25 churches in Santo Domingo. Called Santo Domingo '92, more than 1,200 volunteers flew to the Dominican Republic in a period of three months to build. It was a watershed moment, and it changed how Maranatha operated as an organization. Santo Domingo '92 was also a significant moment in the Dominican Republic's Adventist history as the project resulted in a membership surge. The churches sprouted daughter congregations, and then those groups needed buildings too.

Maranatha returned in 2002 for another effort, building 50 churches. Once again, construction generated another growth in membership. Today the Adventist Church in the Dominican Republic has requested Maranatha's help in providing more places of worship for new congregations.

Project Overview

Volunteers will be instrumental in answering the prayers of the Sinai congregation in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. The members of this church have been meeting in this community for 19 years. They have held small groups and evangelistic campaigns, and there are 44 members who gather each week. Currently they are meeting in a very old, rundown church. The roof leaks every time it rains, making it very difficult for services to be held there. The members were slated to have their new church built in December of 2014, but the project had to be postponed. Now, the congregation is even more excited to welcome the Maranatha volunteers who will be building their new church this June.

Project Schedule

Friday, June 5

In addition to the construction project, volunteers will paint two churches that were recently completed by Maranatha groups in the Dominican Republic. The Luz de Javilla church and the Misionero de Amor church were both constructed in the last couple of months of 2014. They now only need paint to be complete. Volunteers will also have the opportunity to participate in several community outreach programs, including children's ministry programs, food distribution to impoverished areas, and possibly medical clinics, depending on leadership availability.

Accommodations

Volunteers will stay at the Tabernacle Church in the suburbs of Santo Domingo. The large facility, located in a residential neighborhood, is similar to a camp meeting-type space, and it supports groups for church rallies and seminars. We have reserved 18 regular rooms and 2 family rooms with private bathrooms. The facility does not provide bedding, so please bring your own sleeping bags or sheets and blankets, as well as towels and washcloths. Each regular room can accommodate two individuals and have two twin beds or one double bed.

Meals will be held in the spacious dining room. The camp does not provide silverware, plates, cups, and bowl, so plan to bring these as well. Each morning and evening, the volunteer group will meet at the chapel for worship.

Excursion

The Dominican Republic is known for white sand beaches and beautiful Caribbean weather. During the project, the group will take a trip to Isla Catalina. The beaches on the island are quintessential Caribbean beaches complete with white sand, warm water, and palm trees. The tour includes snorkeling equipment. There will also be opportunities to purchase souvenirs in the colonial district of Santo Domingo.

Leadership

David and Judy Shull: Project Coordinators

Judy and David Shull have joined Maranatha on numerous projects in North America, Central and South America, and the Caribbean. They are the parents of two grown sons who have accompanied them on many of the trips. David is an architect at Progressive AE in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and works on various projects around the United States. Judy is the principal and one of five teachers at Greater Lansing Adventist School in Lansing, Michigan. They enjoy helping volunteers and local church members grow together through the construction of a new church home. David and Judy were last in the Dominican Republic in 1995, and they are looking forward to returning.

Expenses

The participation fee covers housing for ten nights, three vegetarian meals a day, ground transportation to and from the airport and project site, local excursions, secondary accident insurance, a Maranatha t-shirt, and luggage tags.

Maranatha must receive all funds and forms by May 4, 2015. Wait for confirmation of acceptance on the project before purchasing your airfare.

If you are fundraising or receiving donations, please have them sent directly to you or work with your local church treasurer to collect funds and issue tax-deductible receipts, since it is difficult for Maranatha to track individual small checks. If your church will not work with you, please wait until you have collected the full amount of your participation fee before submitting your it to Maranatha.

Estimate of Additional Costs

- Flight to Santo Domingo $700– 1,000
- Passport $130 new or $110 for renewal
- Tourist Card $10 (paid upon arrival in Santo Domingo)

About the Dominican Republic

The Dominican Republic is a beautiful tropical country, located on the island of Hispaniola. The landscape boasts sandy, white beaches and luscious green mountains that make it the second most popular destination in the Caribbean after Puerto Rico. Visitors flock to the island to indulge in fancy resorts and year-round golf courses.

Yet a look beyond the tourist attractions reveals a nation with a rich history that is not so picturesque. The Dominican Republic lies on the eastern part of an island that it shares with Haiti. Originally, the entire land mass was inhabited by the indigenous tribe of Tainos. The Spanish colonized it in the late 1400s, making it the first permanent European settlement in the Americas. Hispaniola suffered centuries of a tug-of-war between the French and Spanish. In 1804, the Spanish ceded the western third of the island to the French, and that portion of the island became Haiti. The remaining land became the Dominican Republic, which gained independence in 1844.

Since then, the Dominican Republic has had a turbulent history with ownership returning to Spain only to have a war to regain independence. The country also fell into the hands of a dictator from 1930-1961. Today, the Dominican Republic is a democracy, working toward maintaining a stable and healthy country. Tourism fuels its economy, and it has the second largest economy in Central America and the Caribbean. However, in the rural areas of the country, poverty continues to be a problem, particularly near the Dominican-Haitian border.

Given its history with colonization, the country's culture is a blend of several influences. Spanish architecture is evident in areas of Santo Domingo, particularly in its cathedrals and cobblestone streets. Merengue, the national music and dance, is ubiquitous in the Dominican Republic, and it originated from slaves who worked in the sugar beet fields, their feet connected to each other by chains. Baseball, an American export, is an obsession for people of all ages and children can be seen playing games wherever there is space.

Staying Healthy

Maranatha requires that every volunteer have a current tetanus vaccine (within the last ten years). The Centers of Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) also recommend vaccines for hepatitis A and B, typhoid, and an anti-malarial medication.

There is a widespread risk of malaria for the entire island; however, it is not common in Santo Domingo. Mosquitos are prevalent throughout the island, and even though the locals say that they don't carry malaria, Maranatha recommends that you speak with a medical professional about options regarding malaria prevention. Mosquitos are also known for carrying the Caribbean disease, Chikungunya, so we recommend that you take personal precautions such as wearing long pants and using insect repellent to avoid being bitten. Some vaccines you may already have and some you may deem unnecessary for this trip. Because Maranatha is not a medical organization, we recommend that you schedule a consultation with a travel clinic doctor to talk about the medical risks in the Dominican Republic and the ways to minimize them.
