

Fitting Kids Into India

Depending on your class size, draw an outline of India on the ground (it works well to use chalk on concrete or asphalt) that would be a tight squeeze to fit all your students:

Call students to “fit into India” based off certain criteria. You can make up as many as you’d like, and here are some ideas to get you started:

- “Fit into India if you are wearing blue”
- “Fit into India if you are seven years old”
- “Fit into India if you play a musical instrument”
- “Fit into India if you love playing basketball”
- “Fit into India if you have visited another country”
- “Fit into India if you have been on a mission trip”
- “Fit into India if you can speak another language”
- “Fit into India if you have black hair”
