

A fun and easy way for kids to learn about missions.

Hello Parents,

This week, you'll meet a couple in India who longed for another child after their son died. They prayed to the Hindu gods, but nothing changed. Seeing their prayers go unanswered caused them much pain and heartache. After a while, they became receptive to the Gospel of Jesus. That is when things started to change.

In this story, your kids will see how God turned something bad into a blessing that led to a new congregation of Seventh-day Adventists in India, where most of the population is not Christian.

Pre-video Discussion Questions

- Have you ever been very sad about something? What was it?
- Have you ever prayed for something but didn't get the answer you wanted?

VIDEO

In today's video, hear the story of a husband and wife in India who experienced sadness that God turned to joy.

Post-video Discussion Questions

- How does it feel when someone you love passes away?
- How do you think the parents felt to pray for another child, but nothing happened?
- Do you know any Bible stories where someone prays for God to give them a child? (Hannah)
- How did a new son help spread God's love even further in their community?

Prayer Points

- Seventh-day Adventist church members in India as they spread God's love in a place where most people aren't Christian.
- Ask kids what they would add to the prayer list.

Did You Know?

- India has the most people of any country in the world except for China.
- For every five people in India, four of them are Hindu.
